

ASHER'S
LIBRARY

A decorative illustration centered on the page. At the base is an open book. From the book, two plants grow upwards. The plant on the left has a single flower and a leafy branch. The plant on the right has a larger, daisy-like flower and a leafy branch. Above the plants, a crescent moon is positioned on the left, and an hourglass is on the right. A dotted line curves from the hourglass down towards the plants. Several small, four-pointed stars are scattered around the central elements.
