

The background of the entire image is a dark charcoal grey. It is decorated with several clusters of bright red cherries. Each cherry is rendered with a glossy finish, featuring a small white highlight to suggest light reflection. The cherries are attached to green stems, which are further adorned with three to five pointed green leaves. These clusters are scattered around the central text, with some at the top corners, some at the bottom corners, and others interspersed between the words.

MADISON'S KINDLE