

TECHNOLOGY COMPARISON

The Super CHI 5000L is not a “Frequency Specific Microcurrent Device” or a “Hoyland (Rife) Machine” or a “Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation (Tens) Unit” or “Electrical Muscle Stimulation (EMS) Unit” or a “Zapper”. It is far more powerful than any of these as the following comparisons will show:

- Frequency Specific Micro Current Device

As the name indicates, a Frequency Specific Micro Current Device is used to deliver micro current or microamperes into the body at a specific frequency. It depends on frequency to do its work. The Super CHI 5000L doesn't depend on frequency. It depends on power. It can deliver milliamperes into the body which is a thousand times more than microamperes.

- Hoyland (Rife) Machine

This device depends on frequency just as a Frequency Specific Microcurrent Device depends on frequency. It has to deliver the resonant frequency of the target in order to obtain the desired result because it depends on the resonance OF the target to deliver the power INTO the target. The most powerful plasma tube devices like the FREQUENCY PRO 9000 COMPACT, only delivers microamperes like the Frequency Specific Microcurrent Device. It is not powerful enough to operate outside the band of resonance like the Super CHI. The FREQUENCY PRO 9000 PROFESSIONAL can deliver milliamperes like the Super CHI, but it costs 5 times as much and requires programming which the Super CHI does not.

- Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation (Tens) Unit or Electrical Muscle Stimulation (EMS) Unit These devices only designed to STIMULATE nerves (Tens) or muscles (EMS). Because of how they are used, it would be harmful to the user if they delivered the same power as the Super CHI. They only deliver microcurrent like the aforementioned devices.

- Zapper

This delivers milliampers like the Super CHI 5000L, but it only operates at one frequency and is approximately one tenth as powerful so it's very limited in what it can accomplish. Zappers are designed to destroy parasites as Dr. Clark mentions. The Super CHI operates with 3 frequencies including a higher frequency than a zapper and adds polarity reversal, so it's able to do much more than a zapper and do it faster.

- Super CHI 5000L

A Zyto blood scan showed that it eliminated 100% of viruses in addition to bacteria that was detected. Testimonies show miraculous results from actual users in real life examples, including knocking out a cold or flu in about 10 minutes, clearing up the sinuses without nasal spray or decongestants and even more serious conditions have been resolved as the Super CHI helps the body return to homeostasis.
